GOV, BULLOUR AND GES, GRANT, Gov. Bullock, of Massachu elts, delivered his annual address to the Legislature on Thursday. After a full discussion of the matters of State interest, he alluded to the explosion occurred; which was heard for condition and wants of the nation, and gave the following hearty cadorsement, of Gen. Grant, as the man for the crisis, --selected by the national instinct and called by the popular volce:

It is the record of history that in great public crises the instinct of unation points with uncering segacity to some mon of the people whom they alopt at once in assurance of faith as their closen champion and deliverer. And by a natural law this abiding confidence is through its own soothing powers the surcest guaranty of success. In this dark hour of the national exigency, we have need of a leader whose integrity is we have need of a leader whose Integrily is meorupted by political associations, and whose patriotism has not permitted him to descend to the arena of partisan warfare; of a tried leader of undanted conneg, who will be swayed neither by popular passion nor sectional prejudice; a man of rantions reticence, who has no Inconsistencies to explain, no policies to maintain, no theories to promulgate; of a leader who compre-heads the position and relations of all sections of our common country, and who will bring to the administration of public allairs executive ability, economical ideas, a clear head and an honest heart.

It is manifest that It is the same Proed-dence which has brought us safely through the storm of wire that moyes this whole people now with singular manimity to recognize in a below more appropriate the storm. people now with singular unanimity to rec-ognize in a plain, unpretending citizen ham whose energy, discretion and exalted patri-nism will restore peace and prosperity to discordent States and a distracted ham.— The man for the cri-is—the man for the the man for the crisis—the man for the hour—the man of the people—is Clysses S. Grant. Hefore his precininent fitness for the high office to which a grateful nation would elevate him, let personal preference yield, and let faction subside, that peace, good will and Union may once more and torever abide throughout the Republic.

It is understood that Reverdy Johnson is busily engaged as counsel in the various tegal schemes looking to the defeat of the reconstruction laws. He informed some of of an economic improvement in the manhis southern friends a few days since that he fully expected a decision from the Supreme Court within a short time, althroling that Virginia is a State, and Las not lost any of her sovereign powers. The President also expects this, and the lawyers interested in the case say that if such a de, cision is rendered, he will discontinue milituy supervision in that State, directing commanding officers not to interfere except at the request of civil authorities,

Among the bills pending before the Senate is one introduced by Mr. Drake, which provides that in none of the southern. States shall the registration lists be opened after the conventions for making the new constitutions have been held. This bill will be pressed to early action, because General Pope, in ordering the voting on the constitution of Alabama, has directed the reopening and revision of his registration lists. Mr. Drake contends that this is a violation of the spirit, if not of the latter, of the reconstruction acts.

The Indian Peter Commission is expected to reassemble early next week. General Sherman in the meantime is engaged upon the report to be taid before Congress. He does not expect that it will be ready until toward the close of the month. He will review the Indian question in detail, and show that the interest of the government, the settlers and the pesceable Judians will demand some very marked change in the administration of the Indian Bureau.-He believes that perce could be kept if the Bureau were transferred to the War Department, and all the agents and traders made amenable to military unle.-He thinks that it might all be well, to case Congress is opposed to the transfer of the Bureau, to make a division of duty, and give the military the charge of the wild and roving Indiaus, while the Bureau under a civil head shall have charge of those who live on fixed reservations, and those wh are conforming to civilized habits. He is strong in the belief that the roving tril. 1 can only be kept in order by the milita-He will stongly urge that Congress should settle upon a clear and definite policy, and not leave things as heretofore to capace and haplinzard. He says that as matters now stand the military are held responsible for all trouble with the Indians, and yet cannot act because they are hampered by the officers and agents of the civil service. -He says that Congress should either transfor the Bureau and make it practically independent of the Inferior Department, or make its Indian laws so plain that everybody can understand just what the army has to do with the Indian question.

A CRUECH "NATIONAL IN IIS CHARAC тев."—The Metropolitan Memorial Metho dist Episcopal Church, now being built in Washington, at a cost of $200,000, will be one of the largest and most imposing church edifices on the continent, capable of scaling about two thousand persons. Pews are to be set apart for the President and Calanet, the Judges of Courts and Generals of the Army. Seals will also be provided for the different States and prominent cities, and for strangers. All the windows in the audience room are to be memorial or historiest, commemorating the great men and great events of the age. The altar and pulpit will be made of codar and fir wood brought from Mount Lebanon.

THE CLERKENWELL EXPLOSION .- A London correspondent gives the following description of the state of feeling in the neighborhood after the explosion which was supposed to have had its origin in a Fenlan conspiracy:

at least a couple of inflex on the northern side of the Thames; but a friend whose curiosity took him directly to the scene, obliges me with few personal the revolucing the hardly, he says, ever now such a look of discovery of the revolucing the says, ever now such a look of discovery of these was the says. gloom as there was about that aparter of London, that night. There were few peo-ple about the streets. There was an uncom-fortable impression that the explosion at Clerkenwell might only be part of an or-ganized attempt at wholesale destruction; and even the natural anxiety of people was kept in check by the vague alarm perrading them. At least he attributes to this sort of apprehension the comparatively small puraber of persons who collected about the scene of the disaster. One had no difficulty in getting through the handful of people collected outside the barriers raised by the police. The wholo scene was a dreary, weird one. The pavement had been torn up, and the gas, from the pipes, lighted; and the glaring flame bissed and dickered and east strange lights and shadows on the shattered walls and the search faces of the shattered walls and the scarrd faces of the knot of speciators gathered together unied the ruins. The broach effected resembled a huge, irregular V in shape; while the shabby three-storied lauses in Corporation Lane looked as if guited by life, or like a portion of a destroyed city. They had shored some of them up with timber; notwitastanding which precaution few of the lookers-on cared to venture too near. Even the policemen seemed nervous and apprehensive; they conversed together in subdued voices, and were much less authoritative than usual. The execuation against the workers of the The execration against the workers of the mischlef and the causers of so much useless agony to the poor wretches then lying at the hospitals, was intense and ununimous. It would have been had for any one to have uttered a word in public in apology for Penjauism that right in the neighborhood of Chelcound!

SHEEP-FATTERING AND ENRICHING TH Sou .- In one of your issues, about a year since, there was an item of a Scottish farm er's experience, which may serve as a germ agement of those who have sheep which they wish to fatten in the early part of winter, so as to be ready for the butcher at any opportunity after winter sets in, and of those also who wish to fertilize or keep their land in good condition by feeding out the products of the land itself. As this item openpies but brief space we here re-produce it :

of Clerkenwell.

"I know a farmer within a few rolles of me who always allows his 1,500 intening pired, sheep one pound of beans per diem, when feeding in the field, the consequence of which is a general and progressive enrichment of the soil, which almost compels him to take an extra erop to tanic the land." This is certainly a hint worth remember ing, as it may lead to an improvement in the case of many, both in the fattening of sheep and in the enriching of the soil. The beans can be raised on any farm, unless it he all if any of it has been well drained, and as one pound of beans is worth nearly two pounds of any course grain for feeding slicep or making rich or ni rogenpas manure, they can be employed for these purposes at as small cost as the grains commonly used.-Those who have been readers of these columms for many years past, and who are familiar, of course, with the methods employed by that most sagacious and successful farmer, John Johnson, may profitably compare the item of experience now under no tice with his favorite methods of fattening sheep later in the season, and getting lots of rich manure. The brans may in many cases be deemed preferable to the grain and linseed meal or oilcake which he commonly feeds; and then the feeding of the sheep thereon, before they leave the pasture, secures a fine, evenly-spreading of the rich manure, without the trouble of drawing and spreading it, and without the loss of some of its most fertilizing elements while exposed in the barnyard. A combination of the two methods, and also times of feeding, Resetom Peckham, 70 might be best in several cases. Mexican News.-On the 30th ult. The port of Sisal was blockaded by three armed schooners belonging to the Mexican navy. They were sent thither from Cunp cche. The steamer was prevented from landing any passengers or goods, but was allowed to take aboard cargo. A commissioner from the rebel authorities went aboard on her trip out to yera Cruz, and proceeded in her to the latter port where he was arrested and thrown into prison by the anthorities. President Juarez gets rid of General Diaz for a while by ordering him to take the fields of Yucatan. Government was chartering vessels at Vera-Cruz to transport three thousand men to the peninsula. It is said they will land at Camp the as their base of operations. The ex-Imperialists are preparing to leave the country as fast as possible.

It is stated that the rebellion in Yurata was set on foot by Santa Anna, who furnished Col. Villafana with money and men. It is also reported that he had endeavored to interest several French officers in the scheme but they refused to enter into it. An Hayana letter of 27th ult states in reference to that part of the news relative to the expected coming of Santa Anna, that a seemingly well founded rumor runs here to the effect that the General had written a short time ago a letter to the Captain General Interino of Cuba, raking that he would put no restraint upon the cu listment of per sons here to go out as soldiers to Mexico

The Captain General replied that h could give no assurance in the matter, and Gen. Santa Anna had better await the arrival of Gen. Lersundi.

The Eventso School .-- The festival at the evening school room last evening was. very pleasant affair. A regular session o the school was held in the early part of the evening, the number of pupils present being flfty six, which includes nearly all who be long to it, but Is more than the average atmake the following proposition. We will tendance. The school room was tastefully decorated with appropriate mottoes and emblems, and is a more pleasant room than we expected to find. The teachers, Misses Ellery and Miss Bailey, were at their posts hi good spirits, having, evidently, the confidence and good will of those under their charge.

At about nine o'clock the books were laid by and the order of exercises changed Brief remarks were made by F. W. Tilton the Superintendent, L. D. Davis and B. W. Pearce, when refreshments were served in abundance to all present. These over, Mr. Thomas Coggeshall spoke representing the committee, and was responded to by John Gilpin in behalf of the school. The whole passed off very pleasantly and must have given much satisfaction to all present.

This evening school ought to receive more attention and encouragement from on citizens, generally than has been bestowed upon it. It is an absolute erece ity, it we would earry out the American lilea of teaching all our children to read and write, and, so far as possible, of giving them the rudiments of a general education. Most of these pupils, perhaps all, are so employed that they cannot attend the public schoolduring the day and this is their only opportunity of doing so at all. The teachers are laborious and self sacrificing and deserve great credit and we are happy to know that the pupils are ma' ing good progress in the acquisition of knowledge.

Real Estate. -Though we have not been able to report many real estate sales during the just few weeks. we are able to report that the aggregate for the year, in this city, amounts to not far from $800,000. This is certainly a fair showing, and if holders pers were stolen. A man who is supposed are now willing to come down a little in keeping with other things that are in the market we have no doubt of the return of sales as heretofice. Let us remember that a dollar is worth more now than it was a few years since and that therefore it must huy more property.

Theater, -J. B. Bouth's Boston Theater s coming again, as will be seen by the adverlisement. If success is a criterion of merit this company must certainly be a good one, as they have drawn the largest houses of the season both here and elsewhere. MESSAGE OF GOV. SWANN. New York, Jan. 3 An Annapolia (Md.) special dispatch, dated last night, states that Governor Ewann's message will be transmitted to the Legislature to morrow. He endorses President Johnson's course, is jubilant over what he calls the reaction against the policy of Congress, and expresses great anxiety that the white people of Maryland may not smalgamate with the colored race, which he fears will be the case if suffrage is granted them.

The Senatorial contest here is very ex-citing. The indications now are that Gov. Swann will be defeated and that Ex-Governor Pratt or W. T. Hamilton will be elect-

Washington fivening Disputches,

The statement that Gen. Howard has in dorsed the proposition of a loan of thirty millions or any other sum to the planters o the South with a lien on their real estate and crops for security, 19 entirely incorrect

No information has been received by the Executive that Burlingame has accepted the Special ambassadorship of China, and the report is not credited in official circles.

Another special says the selection of Min ister Burlingame by the Chinese governmen as envoy to the European conference on the treaties with Chua, has been made, it is understood, with the full approval of Secretary Seward who expects this indirect way to have the United States also represented in this conference.

Although Senator Howard, as chairman of the Military Committee, has prepared a report sustaining ex-Secretary Stanton from the charges preferred against him under the Civil Tenure act by the President, it is not true that the Committee have adopted the the report for presentation to the Senate. It is generally agreed that the Pesiden has requested Gen. Meade to follow up the new policy inaugurated by Gen. Hancock, but the friends of Meade claim that he will do nothing of the kind. Gen. Mewle left this morning for Atlanta, Ga. Last night, immediately after his arrival, he ser! so aid to report to Gen. Grant that he had arrived here and was ready to receive any instructions. Meade neither ralled on the President or on Gen. Grant. The parties engaged in introducing domestic industry among the Indians have concluded to place a loam in one of the Indian Departments in order that the representatives of Western tribes who will visit Washington this winter may have a practical illustration of weaving. Indian women, who have been taught to weave, will be present to instruct and explain its impor tance and utility. The Indians in many localities show not only a great desire, but much skill in arran ging a variety of colored raw material into garments and the Indian Department is destrous of encouraging such manufactures.

A SINGULAR STATEMENT. -A letter from York, dated Dec. 3, to the Waterford (Ireland) Mail, mentions the folowing curious rumar :—

lowing curious rumor:—

Admiral Tegethoff, of the Austrian nary is now on route for home, with what he believes to be the body of the unfortunate Maximilian. My connection with the Mexican agents in this country forbid my entering into minutiae, but I can assert that the remains with h will be honored by Austria agent these of the ill-fixed scion of the remains whi h will be honored by Austria are not those of the ill-lated scion of the House of Hapsburg, but of Hamero, a noted bandit and guerilda, who in life was not unlike poor Maximilian. The latter is pining in an obscure dungeon in Quereano, fed with felon's food, and awaiting the welcome arrival of death. The night before his supposed execution, Juarcz, uncertain of his own success in seeking the Presidency, and own success in seeking the Presidency, and perhaps unwilling to unbrute his hands in perhaps unwilling to instance his bands in perhaps driving to undrue his faunds in royal blood, bad the noble captive conveyed by sicalth to a secret den, and substituted in his stead the rufflar Hamero, boping, had he not succeeded in his political as-pirations, to have made a fortune by delivering him safely to Austria. INSURANCE LOSSES.-The following companies are among the sufferers by the recent fire in Cincinnati: Atlantic, Providence..... Washington 6000.

The leading region to public consideration which the New American Cyclopedia possesses may be thus briefly stated: "I. No other work contains so many rehable blographies of the leading med of this and other nation

In this respect it is far apperior even to the more bulk; Encyclopedia Britannica.

"C. The best minds in this country have been em ployed in enriching its paper with the intest data, and the most recent discoveries in every branch of manu-factures, mechanics, and general science. "I. It is a library in fiscif, where every topic is treated, and where information can be gleaned which will coulde a student, if he fasts disposed, to consult other authorities, thus affording their an invaluable key to knowledge, 65. It is readly uduted, with readable type, on good paper, and contains a most copious index.

"6. It is the only work which gives any thing ap

Every one that reade, every one that mingics in reciety, is continuity meeting with alliestors to endjects on which lie needs and derives further information.—In coversation, in leade, in professional life, on the farm, in the family, practical questions are continually striking, which no man, will read or not, can always ratisfacturity ouwer. If fracilities for reference are at hand, they are contained, and not only is the curiosity pratical, and the stock of knowledge increased, but perhaps information is gained and ideas are suggested that will affectly contribute to the binalities success of the party concerned.
